

NCFE CACHE

Level 3 Award for Special Educational Needs Coordinators in Early Years Settings

ABOUT NCFE

NCFE is an international, educational awarding organisation that designs, develops, and certifies diverse, recognised qualifications and awards in the UK. It's a registered educational charity that has been dedicated to learning for over 150 years.

NCFE originally stood for Northern Council for Further Education, but it dropped the full name in the 1990s. Now known simply as NCFE. It's the UK's longest established awarding body, as well as one of the UK's fastest growing, which means it's highly respected for its professionalism and quality.

PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

The program aims to provide participants with the knowledge, skills, and understanding necessary to effectively carry out the responsibilities associated with being a SENCO in an early years environment. It acknowledges the unique challenges and demands that arise when supporting children with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) during their early developmental stages.

The Level 3 Award program encompasses a comprehensive range of topics relevant to the role of a SENCO. Participants will delve into key aspects such as legislation and policy frameworks surrounding special educational needs, identification and assessment of individual needs, planning and implementation of appropriate interventions, and collaboration with other professionals, parents, and caregivers.
